Mrs Wright's Weekly Update

This week

Thank you to all those who were able to come along and enjoy a special time with coffee and a croissant as well as a story at our Book and Breakfast mornings this week. It was great to see so many of you.
A really lovely way to show your children how much you value reading and enjoying stories with them.

I know there is much excitement for the second Glow in the Dark Disco tonight. I am very grateful to the fantastic band of parents who have arranged these for our children. Your time and effort is greatly appreciated.

Next week

Some of you may be aware that staff have been on tenterhooks awaiting the arrival of our Ofsted inspection this half term! If the call comes on Monday it could play havoc with our last week of this half term including our Parents' Evenings on Monday 19th and Wednesday 21st October. I genuinely hope it doesn't because we are all keen to share with you how your children have been doing since September.

If you haven't yet booked, Parents' Evening appointments are available on Schoolcloud until Sunday 18th October. A link to Schoolcloud was sent to parents on the app.

Kacey Ogg Day of Joy

Many of you will recall that we sadly lost Kacey, one of our Reception Class, after a grave illness in the summer term.

He was a boy with a great lust for life who enjoyed laughing more than anything else. In order to remember and honour him, we are having a day of joy on Friday 23rd October for his birthday which falls in the half term holidays.

We would like to make a collection for William's Gift which is a local charity chosen by his family who help the whole family when a child is seriously unwell.
The children are invited to wear non uniform and will be taking part in fun activities through out the day - bringing joy to all! Donations can be made through Parentpay.
